world within an inch. . .

the inch.
the plain old, everyday, common,
unglamorous inch.
no higher than a thimble.
no wider than a quarter.
no longer than a match.

but there is a world
within the inch.
a world as big
as you think it is small.
where population
is measured in hundreds and thousands,
where bits and pieces of knowledge lie hidden, huddled and waiting to be discovered.
to be explored.
to be used.

this is the world.
here is where we work . . .
to define and reveal
its capacities.
to divide it and subdivide it.
to provoke its promise,
to use it.

it is a world in which
perfection is law
and professors its practitioners.
in which knowledge
creates new knowledge
and ideas
create new ideas.
it is a world of researching,
studying, learning; discovering,
hoping, finding,
and controlling.

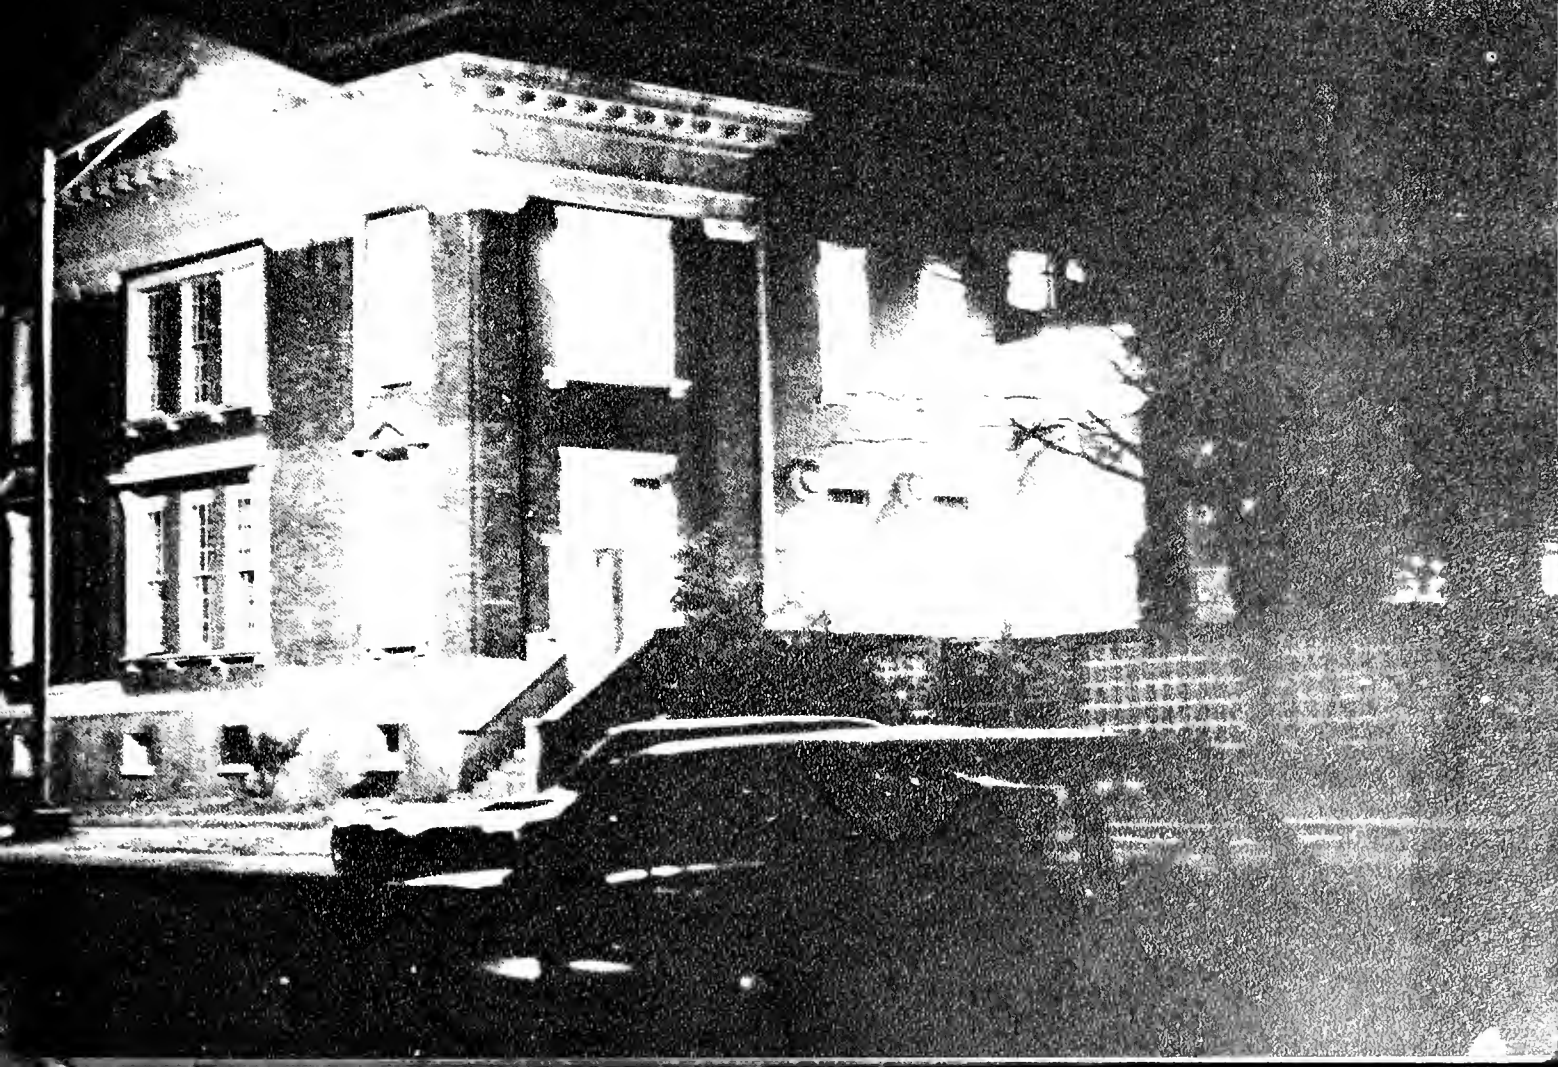

and from our knowledge
of this exacting world
will come the ability to become the leaders of tomorrow.
leaders with less waste
and more purpose . . .
who will perform better
and live longer,
with fewer difficulties
and with greater achievements.

Basketball

Georgia Southwestern played basketball this year! A truly dedicated group of young men fought their way to a 17 win, 11 loss season with only one loss coming on the local court. G.S.C. placed third in the Augusta Invitational Tournament and third in the Iowa Corn Classic Tournament, along with upsetting such teams as Troy State University, Eastern Illinois University, Valdosta (Conference Champion), and twelfth nationally ranked Augusta College.

Leroy Fanning, Coach

Track

This was somewhat of a disappointing year for the G.S.C. Thinclads. The Cross Country Team was plagued with injuries and did not come close to repeating last year's outstanding record. The Track Team, being hampered by getting a late start and by losing three sprinters, is now in a state of rebuilding. However, with the return of conference champion Bob Templeton and Georgia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference shot put record holder Keith Lee, the future looks bright for a repeat of last year's 9 win, 1 loss record.

Dr. William B. King President

In an age when students often claim that administrators won't give an inch, Southwestern can be proud that its president, Dr. William B. King, not only gives an inch, he often goes out of his way to offer any help that he can. There is no lack of communication between President King and the G.S.C. student, for a part of many days is walking around campus, inspecting building progress, and more important talking informally, but candidly with students.

Georgia Southwestern is a rapidly growing institution, and its president has a great deal of work to perform. Even though President King is very busy and shoulders tremendous responsibility, it is a common sight to see him in his office or on campus, talking about school with a student or just giving advice. President William B. King is a great example of why G.S.C. is not just an unfeeling machine, but rather a college where learning and understanding advance hand-in-hand.

Graduation 1970

 everyday, common,
 unglamorous.
 but we are certain
 that if man is ever to conquer the vastness of space . . .
 he must first
 descend into
 the boundless
 never-ending
 innermost
 regions
 of
 the

Epilogue.

The final page has been finished, and along with it the sealing of my memories of this year's work on the GALE. My special thanks to Mr. Earl McDermott, of the Keys Printing Corporation, for all the long and tiring hours he worked with the staff and me in putting together this yearbook. I would also like to thank my faculty advisor, Mr. Bill McKee, for his always needed advice and for his work on the book and the Miss GALE contest. I also want to thank each staff member for his many, many hours of seemingly endless work. Gary, Mary Ruth, Jimmy, Belinda, and Steve deserve special recognition and credit. I would also like to thank the J. B. Lippincott Company of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, for allowing us to paraphrase their poem which we felt so adequately fitted the world of Georgia Southwestern College — 1970.

I would also like to add some last thoughts at this point. A year's hard work went into this book, to capture for you the events and memories which will fade over the years to come.

This year our nation has seen man on the moon for the first time, inflation at an all-time high, dissent among the people of our country, increase in drug addiction, and even the burning of the American flag by our own countrymen. All of this has been watched and reacted to by each individual according to his conscience.

Georgia Southwestern is only a tiny part of this world. Our own lives are even a smaller part of the world which constitutes this college. Each individual has a chance to use this world to explore the vast sums of knowledge it holds, both in books and in personal relationships which will enable him to become a better and more aware citizen of this world.

You have been given the chance here to be an individual, not just a number or a face in a classroom. You are an individual! You live within an even smaller world than Georgia Southwestern. You live within the world of self. You have the same choices in the world of self as you have in the world of G.S.C. to explore and use the potential that is there. If you find the need, you have a chance to change your world of self, and by so doing change in some way the world which surrounds you.

Each individual must first take it upon himself to so define his own world, and then his surrounding worlds. He must then live his life in accordance with his own beliefs.
